

DMIRS Occupational Licensing Performance Report – June Quarter 2022

The Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety (DMIRS) administers over one hundred diverse and complex licence types. These cover the majority of Western Australia's occupational licensing and involve a large number of differing legislative requirements, interpretations and administrative requirements.

This includes building, painting, plumbing, electrical, gas fitting, WorkSafe, motor vehicles, property industries and other Consumer Protection licensing.

The DMIRS performance target is to finalise 80 per cent of applications within the target timeline.

The timeline targets are administrative and are intended to reflect the complexity of each application and our understanding of individual and industry need. Factors influencing assessment timelines can include whether:

- All of the required information is provided by an applicant. If it isn't, this requires follow-up with applicants which adds time and can be confronting for applicants where the additional information required is focused on their professional experience.
- Advice or review from other agencies, statutory boards or Commissioners is required.

DMIRS is continuing to work on strategies to improve licensing performance and the customer experience through a range of initiatives across 2022.

These include:

- Expanding online lodgement and fee payment across the remaining paper-based applications.
- Improving the guidance available to applicants to provide greater clarity on the licence determination process and statutory application requirements.
- Partnerships with other agencies to explore streamlined arrangements.
